Welcome

I am delighted to welcome you to the inaugural Home International's football tournament that brings together 6 teams who will represent their countries to win the 'Coalfields Trophy'

Players have been selected for their country through participation in Midnight Leagues in England & Scotland and summer coaching events in Wales and their place in the team rewards high quality individual performance, fair play and sportsmanship over the whole season.

Midnight Leagues is continually developing throughout each region and their success can be linked to its key objective to allow participants of all ages, race, physical ability and gender to understand issues within communities, whilst using football and sport to improve their quality of life and address some of the key issues facing young people today.

In bringing this event together we are delighted to have the support of the Football Foundation in England, along with Scottish and Welsh football Associations.

The weekend is not only about football, but is an opportunity to allow young people from coalfield communities to share experiences, socially interact, develop life skills and encourage team building through a variety of interesting and challenging activities.

I hope the event proves to be very enjoyable and successful, I hope the tournament is played passionately around the theme of national pride, but above all fairly and wish everyone the best of luck.

Peter McNestry
Vice Chair of the Coalfields Regeneration Trust
